Mock-tail: Sille joos

Brand design, 3d modelling, type design, mockup, photography, character design, shape language

OBJECTIVES
To make a mock-tail for creatives with packaging that inspires.

AUDIENCE
Creatives from age 16+

ISSUES
making the text both readable and unique, learning character design by myself

PROCESS
using 3d modelling and conventional vector design, a unique, character based branding was born

OUTCOME
A mock-tail brand that is both enjoyable and fun, and makes for a great branding and brand origin story!

Orange*

Sille Joos (silly juice) is a Canadian base company that was made due to both the amount of peer pressure to drink, causing mishaps and problems in peoples lives, and the lack on interesting, fun, creative, silly, bottle designs.

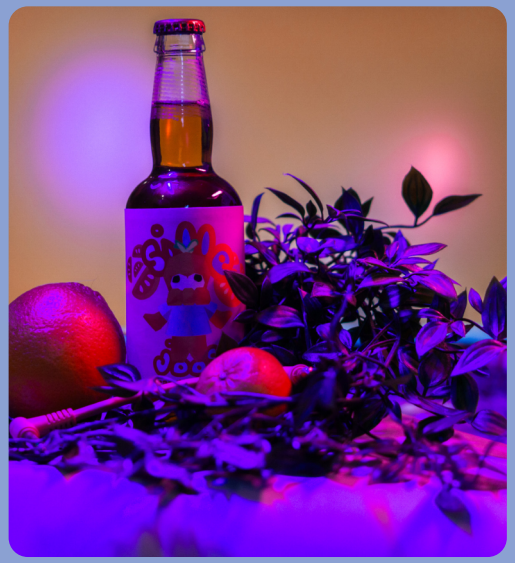
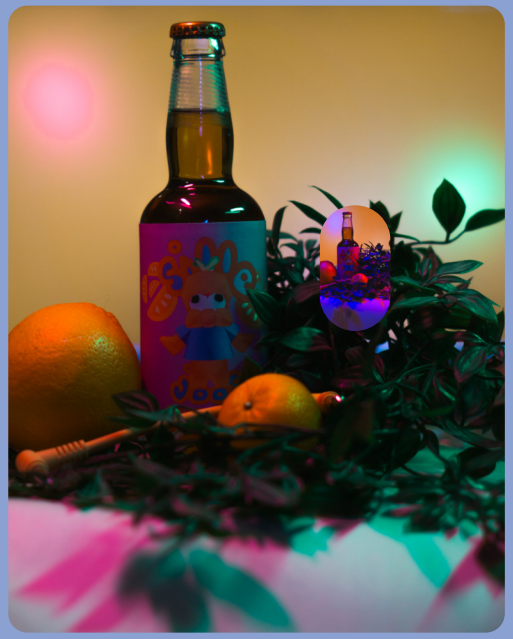
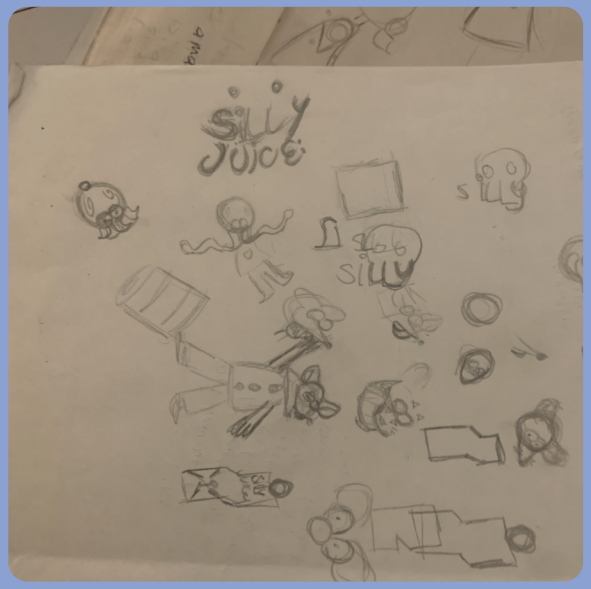
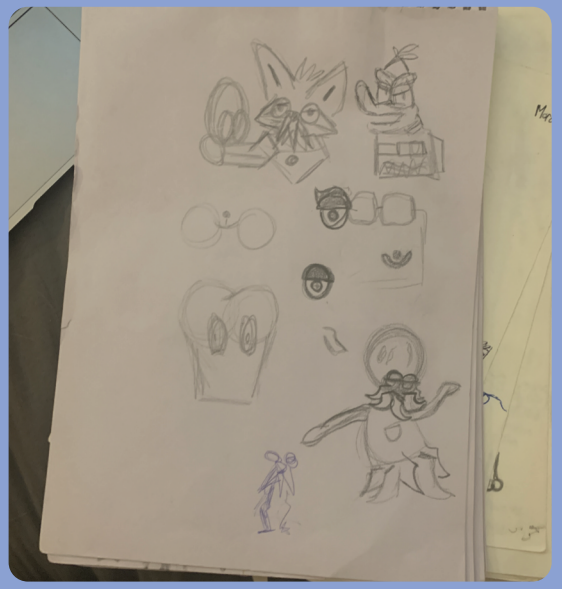
Ingredients: Orange Juice, Maple Syrup, Vanilla Extract Sugar, Water,

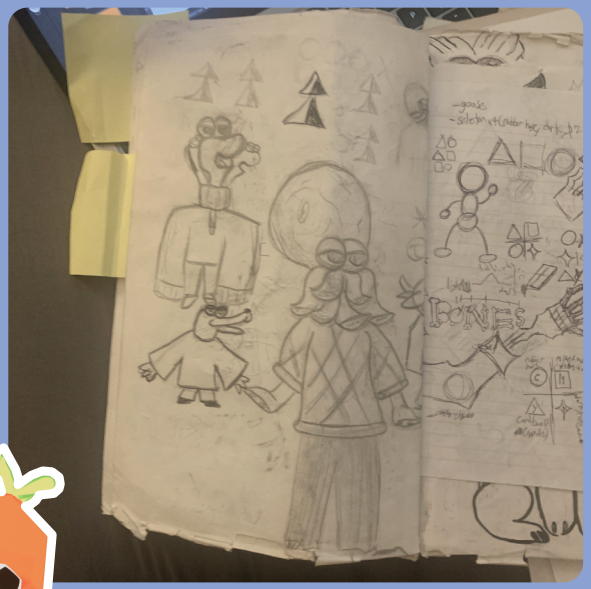


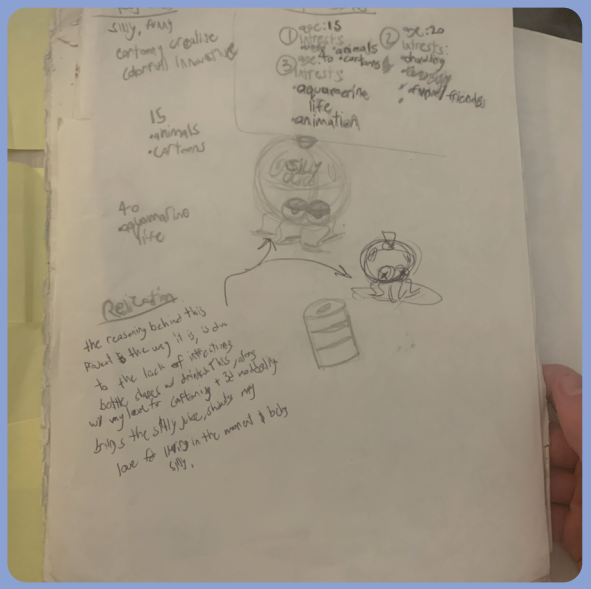


PROCESS









When designing a character, I make a more complicated version
And then simplify it to more basic shapes.
This simple look makes people see details in it that where in the original version, I call it the spackle effects, similar to how you see faces in roof spackle.

Type Design

Vector graphics, shape language, type design

OBJECTIVES
Create one of a kind, unique type faces

AUDIENCE
Anyone 3+ (some are for children's animations)

ISSUES
Creating fonts that haven't been done before, creating fonts that are both fun and readable.

PROCESS
Using curved modifiers and vectored shapes, unique fonts were created!

OUTCOME
Unique and fun fonts for a variety of uses!

3d Illustration

3d modelling, texturing, character design, grease pencil, art direction, illustration, dealing with short deadlines, dealing with scope creep

OBJECTIVES
Create a Illustrative imaging using the 3D software, Blender after a few years of using it.

AUDIENCE
Anyone 6-40

ISSUES
Creating a unique 3d art style that I like (took multiple years of work), the initial idea was far too much for the deadline and I ended up having to restart. I learnt not to bite off more than I can chew and to keep things simple, at least at first, as well as the importance of pre-planning

PROCESS
Using blenders texturing, modelling and grease pencil, A fun and unique illustration was made!

OUTCOME
A 3d illustrated image that is both unique and fun!

Photography

Photography, composition, colour theory, photo editing, conceptual thinking, narrative

OBJECTIVES
Create a noticeable and unique photography style

AUDIENCE
artists 14-40

ISSUES
My photography style doesn't fit with my other work, due to the nature of photography I find it better suited for "darker" images, though having a wider variety of art styles isn't a bad thing

PROCESS
By taking photos and heavily utilizing RAW software editing, I was able to create a noticeable and unique photography style.

OUTCOME
A photography style that is both noticeable and unique.

CD booklet

Photography, typography, layout design, Photoshop, Time base photoshoots, deadlines

OBJECTIVES
Create a CD case booklet for the soundtrack of the movie Whiplash

AUDIENCE
Art and Movie Lovers 14+

ISSUES
Having only a few minutes to take the photos due to the lack of access to a drum set, though its good practice for quick deadline work

PROCESS
Similarly to my other photography work, by heavily utilizing photo editing software and vectored text, a creative CD case was made!

OUTCOME
An innovative CD case for the movie Whiplash!
